WILL. See Trust.

Construction of.—A testator, by his will, directed that all his property be sold. By one of the clauses of said will, he bequeathed to T. B. H., as guardian of his son Arthur, $1500 of the proceeds, to be expended in the education of his said son in such manner as the guardian might in his judgment think right and proper. The will contained among others the following clause: "I will and direct that the balance of said proceeds, after deducting said several sums herein-before named, if any, be divided equally between my brothers J. R. N. and D. B. N." Held, that a balance of said sum of $1500 remaining unexpended in the hands of the guardian on the arrival at age of the testator's son Arthur, did not pass under the will to the testator's brothers; nor did it belong, as undisposed of by the will, to the testator's next of kin; but belonged to the son, on his arrival at age: Nyce v. Nyce, 59 Md.

Foreign Probate as Evidence.—The probate of a will in another state is a judicial proceeding, to the record of which full faith and credit is to be given, when authenticated as required by the act of Congress; and it is not necessary to the admission of such will with the probate thereof in evidence that they shall have been recorded in the state when offered: Bradstreet v. Kinsella, 76 Mo.

WITNESS.

Privilege—Right to Refuse to Answer—Question as to Reason of Refusal.—Where a witness on cross-examination, being asked questions which, if answered affirmatively, would tend to degrade and disgrace him, avails himself of the privilege accorded him by the court, and declines to answer, he cannot rightly be asked, "why do you decline to answer these questions?" When he has declined to answer he has done all that the rule of law requires him to do: Merluzzi v. Gleeson, 59 Md.
